NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A drop in the mercury from a maximum of 82 degrees Sunday afternoon to 72 degrees today was the measure of September's information, and the official forecast indicates a continuance of fair, cool weather. Minimum temperature today was 48 degrees.

Middle West temperatures: Max. Min. Deputy Surveyor Bishop, in charge of the customs inspectors, said he believed many large dressmaking concerns in New York were organized to defeat the tariff regulations and that last year more than $1,000,000 worth of Paris costumes and expensive trimmings were brought into this country without paying duty.

When the ship came fast at pier today, William T. Hardy, a dressmaker came ashore with an overcoat thrown across his arm. His cabin mate, Burton K. Baldwin, followed. For reason of the ship's arrival, the customs inspectors were waiting him. Inspector Segel escorted Hardy and Baldwin to the customs office on the pier and Inspector Campbell got busy at once with their baggage.

ONE PASSENGER TEACHES. When Hardy came home from Europe last year, the inspectors said, he brought twenty-eight Paris gowns. He induced five passengers to divide the gowns among their own trunks and claim them as their property. He forgot one passenger, and the story was told to the officials, who have been looking for the dressmaker ever since.

When Hardy was seated in the customs office, the inspectors said, he made a mummy, all neatly pinned in the back. "How careless of me," exclaimed Hardy. "I might have known better."

In Baldwin's trunks were more shirts and more lace, besides dress trimmings and expensive imported articles which modistes use. The lace was valued at $5000. All the trunks were sent to the public stores and Hardy and Baldwin were arraigned before United States Commissioner Stanton, charged with smuggling. They were held in $5000 bail for examination next Friday.

AMERICAN PEACE DELEGATE MEETS WITH SUCCESS.

Committee on Examination for Conference at The Hague Practically Unanimously Approves Plan for Collection of Contractual Debts. Important Principle Involved.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

THE HAGUE, Sept. 3.—Gen. Horace Porter of the American delegation to the Peace Conference led his proposal for the collection of contractual debts to practically unanimous approval today by the Committee of Examination, and at the conclusion of the meeting he was the recipient of many congratulations on the success of his efforts.

The importance of this American proposal, it is pointed out, lies in the principle which it established rather than its application, which may be very seldom.

Gen. Porter's proposition, as it has been modified, must be submitted for approval to a plenary sitting of the Committee of Arbitration, upon which all the nations are represented.

The Austro-Hungarian proposal in the matter of compulsory arbitration was practically wrecked by today's vote, as the majority in favor thereof was smaller than that which supported the British proposition on the same subject. There probably will be plenary sitting of the entire conference September 7.

Australian Believed to Have Lost Life in Treacherous Sands Near Cairo.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

IMPERIAL, Sept. 3.—It is feared another desert tragedy has been enacted at Carrion Springs, about thirty miles west of Imperial.

L. J. Masterson and T. D. Jordan, coming in front here Coast, camped there Sunday night. Yesterday morning Masterson started ahead of the wagon with a gun and dog, expecting to be overtaken. Jordan saw footprints, but at last lost them among the treacherous sand dunes, where a number of persons have been lost before.

Water being short, he was obliged to come in. He arrived here this afternoon. A party left here tonight to hunt the lost man. Masterson came here a short time ago from Australia.

Gordon-Andrews decided to retire from business. Every woman in Los Angeles knows of the Gordon-Andrews Company, who have been in the exclusive dress business for the past six years. They were sometimes called "The Black Goods House," carrying a stock of black, white and gray dress goods, silks, notions, and some laces and trimmings.

We purchased this stock at a great sacrifice. We are going to pass it along at the same ratio. Think what this means; an opportunity to buy staple black and white goods, including a small quantity of black taffeta, at a price about equal to the present wholesale cost.

Remember this, Gordon-Andrews bought their stock before the present advanced market, which, in the past has advanced from 15 to 25 per cent. This sale starts promptly this morning at 8 o'clock. Coming as it does, right in advance of the Fall Season, it presents an unparalleled opportunity to save. Be here when the doors open. Watch the papers every day for new features.

EXECUTIVE IS LENIENT.
CLEMENCY FOR GIRL CONVICT.
PRESIDENT REDUCES SENTENCE TO TWO YEARS IN PRISON.

Young Woman Who Raised Ten-Dollar Bill to One Hundred, Does Not Get Off With Six Months, as Recommended by Judge Who Sent Her Up.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President today commuted to two years the five-year sentence of Bessie L. Bond, of Baltimore, who, last June, pleaded guilty to altering a national bank note. Five years being the minimum, the judge had to impose that sentence, but with the District Attorney, petitioned for commutation to six months.

Atty-Gen. Bonaparte believed two years was not too much, and the President approved. The young woman raised $10 to $100 to cover a shortage in her accounts as treasurer of a missionary society of the Central Methodist Church.

The girl had taken money to care for her invalid mother. She obtained a $100 note and got it changed into $10 bills. Then, clipping a cipher from one, she added it to the $10 on the other. The pastor of the church was deceived by it, but not the bank.

WORLD'S HEALTH IS IMPROVING.
AVERAGE LENGTH OF LIFE IS MATERIALLY INCREASED.

Dr. H. W. Wiley of Department of Agriculture, Says That as Result of Enforcement of Pure Food Laws and Elimination of Various Diseases People Will Live Longer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. H. W. Wiley, of the Department of Agriculture, was the principal speaker today at the opening of the American Pharmaceutical Association. During the address, he said, with reference to the pure food law, that he had a "contract to live a hundred years."

"What did I mean by that?" repeated Dr. Wiley this evening. "Well, I was speaking facetiously, but I want to make this point: The health of the people of the world is growing better all the time. Fifty years ago the average length of human life was only thirty-three years, now it is between thirty-five and forty, and nearer forty. In a couple of hundred years we ought to have increased it fifty years. Dis-ease is being suppressed more and more. It is still the fashion to bring children up on the bottle. When mothers come to understand that their own milk is free from germs and that the milk used out of bottles carries cultures of diphtheria and cholera infantum then they will have two chances of living when they only have one now. "The education of the people is going forward rapidly, so that they are constantly increasing their arms against disease. For instance, see what has been done in eliminating of typhoid,

CALLS THIS WONDERLAND.

Visiting New Yorker Styles Angel City the Garden Spot of the Civilized World.

Dr. J. Saxl, a prominent surgeon of New York, is a guest at the Alexandria. Though he has visited nearly every country on the globe Dr. Saxl has never before been in Southern California. He says that he is enjoying his visit greatly and was very enthusiastic last night in discussing it.
Said he:

"California is the wonderland of the world. I arrived here only last night and have of course had opportunity to see but little, but what I have seen has enchanted me. Nowhere is there a country to compare with yours.
When the time has arrived for me to retire from the practice of my profession I shall certainly come here to make my home and I shall recommend my friends to do likewise. I believe that this is the place to make investments. Los Angeles has everything in its favor and I believe that every dollar put into real estate in this city will multiply greatly within a very short time."

CROSS HAULS, ALSO BOSSES.

Mail of San Francisco in Angelino Hands.

Man Not Ruled by Totem Gets Contract.

Drivers from This City on His Wagons.

Albert P. Cross, better known locally as Bert Cross, who for twenty years held the street-sprinkling contract in this city, has secured a very important contract in San Francisco, bidding against men who stand with the dominating labor unions of the Bay City.

The contract, paying $20,000 annually, is for hauling the mail sacks from the Ferry to the postoffice, and all stations in the heart and suburbs of San Francisco.

Cross will not stand with the labor-union element, for it is his intention to carry out his contract as an open-shop proposition. With this end in view, he has sent, as a business man from this city to drive the wagons, and others will follow in case of need.

Cross's competitors in bidding for the contract, the Gallagher Bros., took pains to inform him, one of his friends states, of the difficulties he would meet in the event of his securing the contract, and declared he could not get drivers in San Francisco for less than $100 a month. But Cross, though he said nothing of his plans, had no intention of employing totem teamsters to sit on his wagon seats, and he did not figure the contract with any idea of having the union scale forced down his throat.

The contract awarded to Cross took effect Sunday, and the work was begun in good shape, thanks to the drivers sent from this city.

Cross, who was in Los Angeles yesterday on a quick trip, returning to the scene of his latest venture on the Owl, has no apprehension as to the outcome, though he admits that there are many in the city of riots who will disapprove of his methods. He is not a man, however, to be greatly disturbed by the disapproval of trouble-brokers.

The character of his contract gives him a great advantage in dealing with possible interference, for any wilful obstruction of the United States mails is a serious matter. None but Cross appears to have thought of this point, for no one else submitted a bid that was not based on the theory that the bidder must submit to union dictation.

Bert Cross is known in Los Angeles as a "thrustler," and there was jubilation among his friends yesterday over his triumph in a new and hostile field.

"Yes, Bert is all right," said one;
"and it's a pretty big thing for a Los Angeles man to go up there and get the largest mail-delivery contract on the Pacific Coast. It may teach Chairman Patterson, deeply agitated, says he'll resign or make them walk over his dead body rather than rescind those two north-county liquor licenses.

of the Owens River to the head of San Fernando Valley is the scope of an ordinance drawn by the District Attorney for passage by the Board of Supervisors.

This was agreed upon at yesterday's session of the board, after a stormy debate, in which C. E. Patterson championed the cause of liquor and Supervisor Alexander urged the necessity of meeting the requirements of city and of the civic bodies which have given expression on the subject.

For the second time the resolutions of the City Council, asking for a prohibitive and the letter from the Municipal League, with its severe strictures upon the board for allowing the licenses at Palmdale and Neenach, with the request that they be canceled, were presented. This brought on the fight.

It was proposed by Capt. Manning that the board adopt a resolution to the effect that no more licenses shall be granted in the aqueduct territory.
Patterson, in whose district the territory is located, sang out angrily:

CHAIRMAN IN ANGER.

"Promise those fellows that we won't do anything? What right have we got to do that? I feel like throwing the whole lot of communications out of the window. They come in here at the eleventh hour and make their protests, but they didn't say a word when this matter was up before us."

"But you know they couldn't very well protest until the action was taken; they certainly have the right to make their remonstrance," mildly protested Alexander.

Patterson continued, becoming more excited as he spoke: "Well, I'll resign my position, and you can have it tomorrow, before I'll back down from the stand I've taken on these two licenses. We've complied with the law, and more than complied; on this basis these licenses have been granted.
They'll expire before there's a dollar's worth of work done on that part of the aqueduct, and there's no use giving a promise as to what we will do after they expire."

But Alexander continued to push the question: "Will you agree that no further licenses already granted, Patterson, in whose district the route?"

SAYS HIS VOTERS DON'T KICK.

"The people of those precincts are not saying one word against the granting of the liquor licenses," said Patterson, hedging. "They are keeping quiet, and now what right has Los Angeles to come in and dictate to us what action shall be taken in some outside precincts?"

The fact of the greatness of the public work to be undertaken and the prospects of saloons greatly crippling the efficiency of the workmen was pointed out to Patterson. "It's public policy and public benefit," he said. "We ought to get together on this and do the right thing," urged Alexander.

"Well, there's been a great howl about the indignation of the people," came back Patterson; "but I want to say right here that not a single voter in my entire district has spoken to me about this matter. If they are so deeply interested in it why haven't they come to the man who represents their district and stated their objections? I don't like this thing of being dictated to by persons outside my district."

After more discussion, in which it developed that the proposed ordinance will not legislate out of existence liquor licenses already granted, Patterson gave his consent in this wise:

WALK OVER DEAD BODY.

"Pass anything under God's heavens that you want to, and let's get rid of this thing. But I'll tell you that you'll walk over dead bodies."

Two elk's heads were seized by Game ternoon in the taxidermist establishment of A. E. Coleburn, at No. 1204 South Main street. They will be held as evidence for a future prosecution against Binkley and Purdy, the notorious Idaho poachers who are now serving a sentence at Boise for killing elk illegally a year ago.

Morgan is holding the evidence at the office of the District Attorney, and says that if the offenders ever attempt to sell elk trophies again in Los Angeles, he will use these two heads as evidence against them. The heads were taken; they certainly have the right

protested Alexander.

This is not the first venture of Cross

SEEKING HER CHILDREN.

Los Angeles Police Asked to Assist a Utica Mother to Find Her

Two Boys.

Two boys were taken from Utica, N.
Y., by their father five years ago, and now the lonely mother writes to California in the hope of finding them. The runaway husband has never been heard from, but one of the boys sent a postal card to his mother from Dolgeville last January, and it is on this clew that Mrs. Katy Miller hopes to locate two sons, Willie and George, aged 11 and 16 years, respectively.

Mrs. Kate Holmes of No. 8444 South Spring street yesterday received a letter from the heart-broken mother in Utica, asking her to call the case to the attention of the Los Angeles police.
Before she concluded to make public the case, however, she had one of her neighbors visit Dolgeville in search of the boys. No trace of them could be found, although the postal card sent by the oldest was recognized at the Utica postoffice.

It is thought the children may be in an orphan asylum, as they are too young to earn their living. No description, beyond the fact that they are both light-haired, was sent by the mother.

ENTERTAINMENT OFFICIALS.

The Chinese merchants of Los Angeles gave a banquet last night at the of the United States Immigration Service and Chinese Bureau and their wives. The supper was served in the private banquet-room of the café and the menu was Chinese throughout.

FOR AID OF FORESTS.

County to Set Aside Five Thousand Dollars to Grow Trees and Prevent Fires.

Five thousand dollars is to be set aside by the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county out of the next tax levy for the purpose of aiding the United States government in the work of reforestation of the San Gabriel and Santa Monica Mountains and to guard against mountain fires.

Henry W. O'Melveny presented the subject to the Supervisors yesterday, and urged that they take advantage of the section in the State code adopted in 1893, which provides that an amount not exceeding $10,000 may be appropriated annually by county boards of Supervisors for forestry protection and reforestation.

Mr. O'Melveny asked that as a beginning only $5,000 be appropriated, and after the first year's work it would then be easy to determine what amount might be expended judiciously in this effort.

"Every acre of land under cultivation in Southern California is dependent upon the preservation of our forests," he said, "and it is a thing of here. The price is simply to aid the work undertaken by the United States government, but which cannot be carried to its proper extent by reason of lack of funds in the appropriation for Southern California.

Two years ago Mr. Lukens had more than 600 young trees ready to plant, but there were no government funds to provide for the expense, and we had to raise the money by private means here in Los Angeles.

"I would be in favor of turning over this money to the men in charge of the government work, so that they might apply it to their purposes, and if this board will make the appropriation, I will guarantee that the money is judiciously expended through this source."

Petitions asking for this measure were ready for presentation from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and are in course of preparation at Pasadena, Azusa and Pomona.

All members of the board expressed approval of the project, and they will further states that on August 15 the provide for it in the next tax levy.

LIABILITIES ARE HEAVY.

Pasadena Concern Adjudged Bankrupt on Petition of Large Creditors and a Receiver Appointed.

The Brand Manufacturing Company of Pasadena was yesterday declared bankrupt on the petition of the Western Hardwood Lumber Company, National Lumber and Box Company and the Wheeler-Osgood Company. The petition stated that the company had liabilities in excess of $100,000, while the total assets were between $70,000 and $80,000. The proceedings were conducted before United States Circuit Judge Wellborn.

In the petition filed it is set forth that the insolvent company is indebted to the Western Hardwood Lumber Company to the extent of $25,000; to the Wheeler-Osgood Company for $14,000, and to the National Lumber and Box Company for $73,244, all being for lumber and other materials furnished during the past two years. The petition further states that on August 15 the Brand Manufacturing Company committed an act of bankruptcy in that it admitted in writing that it was unable to meet its obligations.

Henry S. McKee was appointed receiver, and Judge Wellborn directed that all subsequent proceedings be conducted before Referee in Bankruptcy Helm, whom he appointed special master.

"We have pursued a somewhat reckless policy with regard to the forests of the United States," said Vice-President Fairbanks at Sacramento. But it is nothing compared with the reckless policy that the timber thieves have pursued with regard to the forests aforesaid.

A CASE OF JAUNDICE.

What does the San Diego Onion have the unhappiness to imagine it means when it applies the term "thoroughly discredited fake" to the achievement of the United States government in constructing at San Pedro the safest and most accessible deep-water harbor on the Pacific Coast?

It is easy to account for the Onion's hysterical elation over the discovery of San Diego bay by two adventurous mariners, sent out by Uncle Sam to explore the coast line, and San Diego rejoices with the San Diegoans that the government proposes to establish a coal yard there and provide other plausible excuses for ships to enter the port. San Diego has a beautiful bay, and all it requires is the presence of ships now and then to make it useful as well as picturesque. A ship at anchor, or spreading her sails to go away, adds wonderfully to a marine view.

One of the chief attractions of the San Pedro harbor is the forest of spars fringing the water front. The coming and going of great ships lends life and interest to the scene. It is but a few days since the largest sailing vessel in the world rode majestically at her anchor just inside the San Pedro breakwater, as safe from the fury of wind and wave as if she were in dry dock, and thousands of people went to San Pedro to see her.

Naturally, the Onion is excited by the prospect that San Diego may be visited by ships, but its fear that there are not ships enough afloat to call at more than one Pacific Coast port is wholly groundless. If the Onion editor will visit San Pedro, he will see more ships than he supposed the Pacific Ocean to bear upon its broad bosom, and will realize that quite a fleet could be sent to San Diego and not be missed. He will see also that he spoke very foolishly when called that safe, commodious and rapidly-developing harbor a "thoroughly discredited fake." The Onion man is becoming narrow, peevish and provincial. He should travel a little—say two or three miles away from his office—and broaden his understanding.

Doubtless the war fleet will visit San Diego; it is to be hoped so at all events. But the Onion's notion that the two admirals were seeking a secret refuge where the fleet can remain undiscovered, and chose San Diego, is quite incorrect. The navy will visit all the ports on the coast, and Uncle Sam's sailors will spend most of the time at our seaside resorts, saluting our winter girls and having the time of their lives. When they become wearied of the gayety and excitement they cannot find a more delightfully restful retreat than San Diego.

Nobody has thought of keeping either the visiting admirals or the expected fleet away from San Diego, and there is no occasion for the more or less esteemed Onion to vex its soul with envy of its neighbors and utter derisive, ill-natured foolishness about great public improvements designed from the benefit of the whole of Southern California.

Good-humored nonsense does no harm, but there is neither wit, wisdom nor decent public spirit in the sort of stuff that the peevish San Diego paper is in the habit of printing concerning every evidence of enterprise and growth outside of its own small corner of Southern California. It well knows that the harbor of San Pedro is of great benefit to commerce and in no sense a "fake," and if it had a little sense it would rejoice in the energy, public spirit and successful enterprise of Los Angeles instead of yapping about "hungry boomers" and "hot-air factory," like a feeble deprived of a bone.

MILLIONAIRE FARMERS.

Until within ten years the lot of the average farmer was unsatisfactory. Taking the farmers who owned their own property, we had a large portion of the population of the country with investments in amounts ranging from $3000 or $4000 and up to $3000 or $10,000 each. Their toil was the hardest imaginable and their remuneration scant. There were farmers through the West, from thirty to fifty years ago, who owned forty, eighty or 160 acres each, with improvements consisting from $2000 to $7000 or $8000 each, and never got a dollar a bushel for their wheat. In these early periods farming was much harder than it is at the present day. Machinery was only beginning to come into use. The farmer cut his grain with a "cradle." It was a hard task to cradle two acres of wheat a day.

What a change! The farmers of the Northwest this year are now organizing a syndicate among themselves, not only to warehouse their own grain and build elevators and other means of handling the crops, but they are going into competition with the great grain merchants of the country, to buy the crops of farmers outside the syndicate. The sum of money contributed for this farmers' syndicate to handle grain is $50,000,000.

Ten years ago, in that northwestern territory, the farmer was a rare exception whose farm was not almost buried under mortgages. These mortgages are all paid off. His fences are in better trim than those of the shrewd politician in the country. He has no horse for a house, but a house of considerable pretensions and embodying in it all the comforts of modern life. He has been filling the savings banks with money, and now he proposes not only to grow wheat, but after the fashion of the California orange growers, to market his own crops.

This transformation has been wrought to a considerable degree by the unusually large crops for at least five seasons past. But that is not the only influence that has been making millionaires out of American farmers. The Dingley tariff bill has little to do with wheat or other cereals, but with the sheep and cattle upon the farms it has exercised an exceedingly great influence. It is the first tariff act that ever recognized in an adequate manner the interests of the farmer. The manufacturers reaped the greater part of the benefit from the protective tariff until the Dingley act was passed. But this latest tariff act has forgotten no industrial interest. American manufacturers, farmers, fruit growers, stock men, every American who is engaged in any occupation, are recognized under this law.

The Dingley tariff act greatly affected the election of 1900 and of 1904. It is unimaginable that in 1908 the farmers of America will forget the benefits accruing to them from this tariff act. They can scarcely forget the conditions that prevailed under the Wilson act from 1893 to 1897. It may be expected that in the campaign of next year the farmer vote, at least throughout the whole North, will remember the party which has made it possible for farmers to contribute a purse of $50,000,000 to fight the grain combine.

AS TO BOND ISSUES.

It is one thing to vote a bond issue and another thing to sell the bonds. The present is the hardest time in many years to dispose of long interest-bearing municipal securities. Several eastern cities, like Boston, with the best of credit, have utterly failed to find a market for their recently-issued bonds.

Los Angeles should be very reluctant to issue more bonds for any purpose whatever until the money is in hand for the aqueduct bonds. There is a limit to the amount of Los Angeles bonds that buyers will absorb. It would be a grievous mistake to glut the market—an easy thing to do at this time.

The Times appeals to the City Council to weigh conditions with great caution, ere authorizing bond elections for this purpose or that. It is a recognized fact that a majority of voters are unfamiliar with financial problems and are too ready to give their approval to additional indebtedness when the thing proposed seems desirable, no matter whether the city can afford it or not.

If, by going too far and overloading the market with Los Angeles bonds, the great aqueduct project should be delayed or impeded, it would be a vital blunder. Let us be sure of our ground. The only safe course is to find buyers for the requisite amount of water bonds before adding to the camel's load.

NO JOINT STATEHOOD.

From Oyster Bay has come the announcement that President Roosevelt is done with the idea of joint Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico—that he will not go behind the returns of the last election, wherein the people of Arizona, by a vote of 13,000 to 3000, decided the question in the negative. This news of the President's determination must be authentic, for it has come through the Associated Press, in an interview with Secretary Gresham, who returned only a fortnight ago from a pulse-feeling trip through the Southwest. Following him, on about the same route, came First Assistant Postmaster-General Hitchcock.

It is probable that both came to the conclusion that the people of Arizona knew what they were about at the time of the last election and that there has been no material change of public sentiment since that time. It is probable, also, that both found that the people of Arizona are Americans of sound intelligence, free of prejudice and free of political question that may be submitted to their determination and that they voted as they did not because of any lack of affection for the strenuous Chief Executive and not because of opposition to Statehood in righteous form, but because they loyally and tenaciously held to their belief in Arizona's right, eventually, to full political sovereignty, independent under the limitations of the American Constitution.

No man is more beloved in Arizona than is President Roosevelt, and this added evidence that the "square deal" still exists will strengthen his hold upon the section of the nation whence came the staunchest of his "Rough Riders."

WHERE INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION STICKS.

We must not be discouraged if the peace conference at The Hague does not result in a court of international arbitration to settle disputes by reason, not by arms. We must recognize the great difficulties in the way. Suppose there was such a court in existence. Two cases would at once come before it. Korea would appeal against Japanese aggression in that country and Morocco against French interference. From the standpoint of the Koreans and the Moors they would have perfect cases to which the aggressors would have nothing to reply. From the general American point of view the cases would be indefensible than that of England in India. But if ever, after centuries, the horrors of Hindu life shall have been replaced by Caucasian civilization, will not the world be better for the change? The Indians had no more right to hold Chicago as a swamp where small game might be hunted and prevent the modern city from rising than the Hindus have to perpetuate the gross cruelties of child marriage, or worse customs in regard to female children of the tenderest age.

If there ever is a court of international arbitration there is no doubt that its jurisdiction will extend further than cases where war is threatened between powers. It will have to be given jurisdiction over the conduct of nations. It may be contended that it is the business of the Hindus how they live. It is the nations' business how any member of the family lives. A family has no more right to make itself obnoxious to the neighborhood because of immoral living than a nation has to be a center of gross corruption.

When we come to look into this problem of an international court of arbitration it opens many points from which it must be viewed in order to gain a proper conception of the difficulties in the way, and its eventual scope. If in many years we get such a court established with powers to deal adequately with international affairs, we may well be satisfied.

HOROSCOPE FOR THIS DAY.

Wednesday, September 4, 1907. "Power this day waits on the ready hand; Push home thy blade; no foe can win anything new."

This is the two hundred and forty-seventh day of the year; moon's age, 28 days. Venus rises early tomorrow morning. Jupiter is in benefic aspect with the moon.

The conjunction of the moon and Jupiter this day brings glorious power for grasping any opportunity that may present itself. Seize quickly and courageously. Push your affairs to the end. Dare to build on the visions of the brain. Buy that which you have long desired. Open new places of business, especially if they be connected with banking or dry goods. Begin anything new.

Seekers for advice should remember that this day a cross shines on the path. Let them, therefore, take counsel with priest, clergyman or rabbi before sunset.

Those who are in all health will be well advised if they start on a journey for cure this day.

Those whose birthdate this day will have a most fortunate year, and their money will increase, while in society and family none but joy awaits them. Fortune is the child of to-morrow. It will succeed brilliantly in business and society, and will contract a most excellent marriage.

Even Boston is Hard Up.

Solid Boston has been experiencing difficulty in selling $4,000,000 in 4 per cent. bonds, whereas last year she easily disposed of issues almost as large for $10,777. Money is tight everywhere just now, and the best investments are going begging.—Mexican Herald.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

The affair was a luncheon for Miss Griston, who will become the bride of John Beaufort Wensell, a wealthy contractor of Kansas City. Miss Griston has been spending the summer in Los Angeles, her former home, but will return to Joplin for her marriage in October. The couple have planned a tour of the world for their honeymoon. Miss Griston was presented with a handsome traveling bag. Those present were Mrs. E. A. Haldeman, Mrs. Joseph Seymour, Mrs. William Cameron, Mrs. Wilbur Keim, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. Clarence Jones, Mrs. Paul Haddock, Mrs. Guy Haldeman, Miss Irene Griston, Miss Elizabeth Fraleigh, Miss Ruth Brown, Miss Pearl Brown, Miss Lena Turner, Miss Miriam Worwick, Miss Annie Bannister and Miss Edith Addison.

Interesting Wedding.

Of interest to local society was the wedding last evening of Miss Jennie Edwards and James Howe, which was solemnized at Hotel Bimini, the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Edwards. The service was read by the groom's father, Dr. D. F. Howe, pastor of the Westlake Methodist Church, and the music was in charge of Donahue Orchestra. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white net over satin, with lace trimmings, and she carried a shower of bride roses. The maid of honor, Miss Edna Edwards, was attired in pale blue silk, and carried an arm bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses. James Howe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The decorations, which were in charge of Miss Walle, were most artistic. The reception-room was decorated with greenery and white pillar, ornamented with fluffy ferns, formed an aisle to the altar. The dining-room was aglow with Japanese lilacs, ferns and tulips. The bride's table was decorated with a centerpiece of pale pink roses. Upon their return from a brief trip, the young people will make their home in Los Angeles.

Announces Wedding Date.

Mr. and Mrs. William McNaughton, No. 1252 Thirtieth Place, announce the approaching wedding of their daughter, Miss Alice McNaughton, to Edgar Dearden. The event will take place Thursday evening, at the home of the bride's parents. Several interesting functions have been given lately in honor of Miss McNaughton, among them being a china shower, given by Mrs. F. W. Chambers, No. 89 Vernon avenue. Among those who enjoyed the merry time were Mrs. John Ole, Mrs. Clyde Wise, Mrs. Max Hammarlark, Mrs. Harry Heron, Miss Maggie Smart, Miss May Smart, Miss Lucy Dowland, Miss Mary Dowland, Miss Myrtle McAllister, Miss Ella Morarity and Miss Florence Dowland.

Oriental Rugs

Our Oriental Rug business is handled the same as the regular lines of Dry Goods—buyer goes direct to the source of supply, gets liberal discounts on great quantities, avoids all importer's and middlemen's profits, and then sells on a fair margin of profit.

Every rug is marked, in plain figures, at the lowest price we can possibly afford to take. The "mark-high-enough-and-get-all-you-can" policy is not in force in THIS rug store.

If it were, we couldn't sell under a money-back-if-you-want-it guarantee.

CIRCULATE THESE Big Facts

The series of three impressive articles, in The Sunday Times, on the development of Los Angeles, have been assembled in a single half-size 8-page sheet and are now ready for widespread distribution.

Eight Captivating Pages

These facts, shown in the imposing tables and charts, are convincing evidence of the wonderful statistics in population, finance and manufacturing industries made by Los Angeles, the freest city in America. Wide dissemination of this "meaty" literature will ever set at rest the "doubting Thomases" and jealous neighbors who are harping against the "City of Angels."

Therefore, all the text and tables of demonstration have been printed in a convenient, 8-page sheet, and are now offered to merchants and others (who will send them abroad) on the following basis:

In 5000 lots, $5 per thousand. Purchasers to have the privilege of having a red line printed on the first page, reading, "Compliments of John Jones," at no extra charge. In addition, The Times will insert, at no charge, a page advertisement for any purchaser, costing only the cost to the office in addition to the $5 per thousand.

In less than 5000 lots and down to 2500 lots, $7.50 per thousand, same conditions as 5000 lots.

Less than 2500 and down to 1000 copies, $10 per thousand, same conditions as in 5000 lots.

1000 copies or less, 1c per copy straight, no extra printing. Send 2c for a single copy.

A Note of Dissent.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—[The Times.] The disposition of the Philippine Islands has been discussed by the citizens of Los Angeles, and until such time as the matter is thoroughly argued, the masses will have no voice in the decision. The islands in question are the most fertile and productive in the world, and the capture of them would be a great boon to the United States. The United States has the right to take possession of them, and the people of Los Angeles should be prepared to support the government in this action. The islands are a great asset to the United States, and the people of Los Angeles should be prepared to support the government in this action. Philippines and Japanese.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(To the Editor of The Times.) Your editorial regarding the Philippines is very timely, and the subject can hardly fail to be an interesting one to the entire population of the United States.

Like all of our questions, there are arguments to be used on each side, but it would seem as if the balance would weigh heavily in favor of disposing of them, provided it could be done on terms satisfactory to ourselves.

Certainly a general discussion of the subject would be beneficial, if only to acquaint the views of the public at large with the facts of the case.

It appears to the writer that the United States has an abundance of supplies of goods, which are strictly her own and cannot be shifted, without doing to any form which we could reasonably expect.

Geographically and racially the Philippines are nearly allied to the United States, and it is not surprising that to the United States they are well adapted to carrying the varied assortment of inhabitants.

It is almost inconceivable that at any time the islands could ever be assimilated as an integral portion of the United States, and it certainly would be better if they were not.

Under the circumstances which have brought them into our possession, it is hardly to be expected that they will be assimilated as an integral portion of the United States.

It is almost certain that they will be better off under Japanese rule, and it is almost certain that they will be better off under Japanese rule.

In fact, Brentwood Park will be to Los Angeles what Drexel Boulevard and Lake Shore Drive are to Chicago. There are several good opportunities right now to get a home site there. There isn't one that doesn't average at least 30,000 square feet—miniature farms, in fact. Whenever it is convenient for you to go out, phone our city office. We will take you out in our automobiles. City Trustees Establish Figure for

Municipal Revenue for Coming

Year.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 3.—The city tax rate for the year was fixed by the City

Trustees this morning at $1.25 on each $100 valuation. It is estimated that this rate will bring in a revenue of $125,000, which will not only carry on the various departments of the city for the current fiscal year, but will wipe out the present indebtedness of about $20,000 and make it possible to carry out the present policy of street improvement. Over one-half of the taxes collected will go into the street fund.

Last year's rate was $1.10.

of the greatest problems of the new City Council has been called upon to meet fund, 1; street fund, 4; library fund,

2; electric light fund and interest fund, 3; street improvement fund and
